240th Quartermaster Supply Company

THE ROCK IS ROLLING!

Volume I, Issue X. September 2004

Convoy Live Fire Exercise

The Soliders of the mighty "ROCK" proved once again that they are a versatile and trained fighting force well versed in convoy defense measures. These fine Soldiers took the fight to the enemy at the Convoy Live Fire Range like no other Combat Service Support unit has done. This training was a culmination exercise validating all the units tactics, techniques, and procedures covered [illegible] Live Fire Exercise (CLFX) is a simulated tactical convoy where soldiers are continuously tested on their ability to engage enemy personnel whether mounted or dismounted and their ability to accurately react to Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs) and enemy RPG attacks all while traveling in their vehicles. Our Soldiers participated in a total of 24 day and night tactical lanes. They were broken down into [illegible] convoys consisting of six vehicles with approximately 14 to 18 Soldiers. Stellar performer during this event were SPC Newsome and Pyramides, PFC's Brown, Humphrey, Clark-Harris, and PV2 Sassi. SFC Stallworth was touted by the CLFX Range OIC as being one of the best convoy commanders he has seen complete the course. The Soldiers were extremely [illegible] opportunity

CLFX After Action Review

It gave some an opportunity to get a feel for what it might be like during deployment operations and for others it gave them a change to hone and implement skills while integrating their new team members into the fight.

Kudos to all...Job well done and I am truly proud of each and everyone of you! ☺

Night time preparations prior to reigning terror on the range.

Organization Day '04

Unit activities, family time, and friendly competition was the objective during the annual Battalion Organization Day. Although 240th did not win the overall championship, we did capture a well needed victory in the rest and relaxation column. Our soldiers took home gold in Spades and the Tug of War. We also sponsored the balloon toss which won rave reviews. Special thanks to SSG Lambey who put together all the teams and was the unit coordinator for this activity.

"NEXT YEAR WE DOMINATE!"

The families participated in the Tug of War and they absolutely gave it their very best.

PROMOTIONS

SGT Pyramides 92W
Water Section

FRG CORNER

Harvest Fest - Oct 29th - 7p.m. - Company 1st Floor - This is a large event for the 240th FRG. We will need many volunteers to give ideas, decorate, and dress in costumes. We plan to have a haunted house, games, food, picture taking by CAC (their will be a fee), contests, and scary cartoons for children.

September's bake sale - September 7th - SSA Motor Pool.

FRG would like to sponsor a trip to Czech or Poland in Oct. This trip will be for family members first, then opened to all the soldiers in the unit who would like to attend. Tourist passports are required.

Next FRG Meeting Sept 21st, Yellow Ribbon Room, 6p.m.
Theme:
Soul Food